

SHERWOOD FOREST

WHERE LEGENDS GROW

ENTER OUR WRITING COMPETITION

What stories could you tell about our community?

If you love this place as much as we do, why not put your words on the page in our writing competition? It could be a poem, a short story or even an essay. There's a word count of 300, but that's the only limit. Edwinstowe and Sherwood Forest are alive with stories, and we want your imagination to run wild.

If your piece impresses our competition judge, acclaimed children's author Sarah Ann Jukes, you could win a £25 National Book Token plus other exciting prizes.

The competition is open to both children and adults,

Entries can be handed in at Sherwood Forest Visitor Centre or e-mailed to carol.hallam@rspb.org.uk any time until Monday 30 January 2023.

Good luck!

Miner2Major
The Real Sherwood Forest